What would happen if the Snow White did not eat the apple :)

WOMAN SAID: I am not a giant, actually I was a princess once, she said, imprisoned in here.

During this, Jack decided to rescue them from here to free them, he heard while he was thinking about how to do it, as he was a princess as before, this became a handsome prince, suddenly disappeared. They found themselves in the garden of the spell of the sister in London. The moment someone else is the princess's color, the spell will be broken. Jack could not tell that even. The giant and his wife have been returned to their past and princess. Then they went to the king and told everything. I later into a prison. Jack and his mother lived very happy and everyone to support people to help to start a business from there. There apples fall from the sky, one to those who listen to the wheel of this story, the other to all.
